

Shift of Eurowings long-haul offer to Lufthansa flight numbers

Factsheet

In preparation for the launch of Eurowings Discover (IATA Code: 4Y), the new leisure hub airline of the Lufthansa Group, the flight numbers of all Eurowings long-haul flights will be changed to Lufthansa flight numbers (operated by Lufthansa) on 5 May 2021. This will affect all currently published Eurowings routes – for travel starting 1 June 2021.

What you need to know about the automated rebookings

- On 5 May 2021, passengers with an existing booking will be automatically rebooked from the current flight numbers to the new Lufthansa flight numbers
- The departure and arrival times will remain unchanged
- With the automated rebooking, an SSR element will be entered into the booking: REBOOKING DUE TO OPERATOR CHANGE TO LUFTHANSA

- Tickets already issued will be automatically revalidated
- Booked seat reservations are automatically rebooked and remain free of charge on the Lufthansa flight number
- Before the start of Eurowings Discover flight operations, the flight numbers will be changed from LH to 4Y. We will, of course, inform you about this in advance

Note on Special Service Requests (SSR)

With the switch to Lufthansa flight numbers, the available Special Service Requests (SSR) will be adapted to the future Eurowings Discover service offer.

The booking of Special Meals (EAML, EBML, ECML, EDML, EEML, EFML, EGML, EHML, EIML, EJML, BBML, CHML, AVML, GFML, HNML, KSML, LFML, LSML, MOML, NLML, SPML, VGML, VJML, VLML) as well as the following Special Services are no longer possible: AOXY, AVIH, DEPA, DEPU, STCR, VDAL

As Lufthansa will take over the flights to Punta Cana and Windhoek until the planned launch of Eurowings Discover, the Special Services bookable with Lufthansa will be available on these flights for travel between June and July 2021.

(As at: 3 May 2021. Subject to change).
